The Deutsch Europäisches Forum für Urbane Sicherheit e.V. (DEFUS) [German-European Forum for Urban Security] is the German Forum in the European Forum for Urban Security (EFUS). It provides the possibility for an exchange and cooperation of the various actors in the field of safety work (mayors, chairmen/women of prevention committees, heads of order and safety departments et al.).

The forum aims at contributing to the improvement of public security in cities and municipalities, especially with respect to local crime prevention, crime fighting and traffic security. Moreover, the civil sense of security should thereby be enhanced.

German Congress on Crime Prevention

Since 2007 the German Congress on Crime Prevention (GCOCP) is hosting the Annual International Forum (AIF) to address the international (non-German speaking) audience. The aim of the AIF is to add a international perspective to the German Congress and to give the opportunity to share experiences in crime prevention on an international level. While the world is growing closer research as well as experience should be disseminated within a broad professional framework. Therefore we ask international experts from all areas of crime prevention to introduce, share and discuss their ideas, goals, outcomes, projects and speeches with other experts and to experience the German modality of crime prevention.

The 10th Annual International Forum within the 21th German Congress in Crime Prevention will take place at 6. and 7. June 2016 in Madgeburg.

More information on the upcoming congress will be found on this website section soon. If you wish to receive more informations per Email, please subscribe to our mailing list.

Communities That Care (CTC)

community-change process for preventing youth violence, delinquency, alcohol & drug use, and promoting well-being – through tested & effective programmes and policies

Welcome,

Communities That Care (CTC) is a strategy development process for local communities that empowers them to use robust evidence of 'what works' in prevention and early intervention to prevent youth problem behaviours, based on unique profiles of young people's behavioural outcomes and risk and protective factors in that community.

Epidemiological research on risk- and protective factors, working with effective prevention programmes, community ownership of local implementation, proactive

The EU-funded project

"Communities That Care (CTC) European Network: Making CTC work at the European level" (1/2013 – 12/2015) supported the transferability of CTC by working on three topics:

Webinars

The Institute of the German Congress on Crime Prevention (dpt-i) and the Radicalisation Awareness Network (RAN) offer a series of six webinars (online-seminars). Several aspects of radicalisation are explained and discussed. The Webinars are held in English language. To attend these webinars you need an online-link. If you are interested in joining the Webinars please get in contact with us: webinare@praeventionstag.de.

The next Webinar (Webinar#02) will be held on 18 April 2016 from 4 to 5 pm (CET/CEST):

Webinar#02 Dealing with Radicalisation at Schools

Later adolescence and early adulthood are regarded as vulnerable periods for radicalisation processes. For this reason secondary schools can be places where youngsters show worrying signals or even explicit radical behaviour. The present leave of youngsters for IS puts political and societal pressure on the educational systems to deal with radicalisation. How can schools handle this task and meanwhile remain a positive learning environment in which pupils and teachers feel comfortable? What could schools do to build resilience against extremist thoughts?

Jesper Holme (Aarhus, Denmark) will focus on how young people can be themselves and also be part of a greater "We". What is the connection between a good balance of personal skills and daily challenges and the motivation to think and say, what you think and mean? And what about the development of
